History: Amanda Johnson is an engineering manager with Black and Veatch and has worked in the water and wastewater industry for over 13 years. She graduated from Oklahoma State University with a B.S. in civil engineering (2005) and a M.S. in environmental engineering (2007). Amanda is a licensed professional engineer in Missouri and Kansas. She is an active member of MWEA having served in various roles including secretary and is currently the vice president of the organization. She grew up Edmond, Oklahoma before moving to Kansas City in 2007 where she lives with her husband, two young daughters and their dog. Amanda enjoys reading, Tae Kwan Do and playing soccer.

Fun fact: Amanda is working towards a 3rd degree black belt in Tae Kwan Do.

Favorite quote: “I’ve learned that people will forget what you said, people will forget what you did, but people will never forget how you made them feel.” — Maya Angelou

My job would be a lot easier if we weren’t worried about meeting budgets and schedules.
