Darron Ammann is a Registered Landscape Architect and currently a Vice President and Senior Project Manager with Bartlett & West in their Lawrence, KS office. Darron has been with Bartlett & West for 14 years and oversees Land Development, Landscape Architecture and Business Development relationships in his day to day operations within the Facility and Site Division. Recently Darron led the development effort with the City of Lawrence for the Farmland Business Park Master Plan to redevelop a 435 acre brownfield site into a new business park for the community. This project won the “Honor Award” in the Planning category at the Prairie Gateway American Society of Landscape Architects (PGASLA) Gala this Spring in Kansas City, MO and is the highest award available in the planning category. Darron is also very involved in numerous Economic Development organizations throughout the region including the Lawrence Chamber of Commerce, the Kansas City Area Development Council (KCADC), the Parkville Missouri Economic Development Organization and sits on the Board of Directors for the Franklin County Development Council.

Darron is originally from Minnesota and obtained Bachelor of Landscape Architecture and Bachelor of Environmental Science degrees from North Dakota State University in Fargo, ND before moving his family to Kansas in the late 90’s. Darron is married to wife Stephanie and they have three children, Anthony (19), Ashley (15) and Ayden (8). He is very active in coaching all of their children’s activities in Lawrence in a variety of sports and holds a National D Soccer Coaching license. In his spare time he enjoys long distance running while training and completing half-marathons, is an avid golfer and enjoys evening walks with his wife to end each day.
